

NEW VOICES IN CLASSICAL RECEPTION STUDIES
Conference Proceedings Volume One

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

LIZ GLOYN is currently a lecturer in Classics at Royal Holloway, University of London. When not thinking about monsters and gender in classical reception, she works on Roman literature; at present she is completing a book manuscript that looks at Seneca's ethics of the family in his philosophical texts. She is also working on a book chapter examining the provision of classics teaching at Newnham College, Cambridge, between 1882 and 1922."

STEVEN GREEN is currently Honorary Research Fellow in Greek & Latin at University College London. He specializes in Roman literature and culture in first centuries BC and AD, with particular attention to the Augustan and Neronian periods. He is author of Ovid, Fasti 1: A Commentary (2004) and co-editor of The Art of Love: Bimillennial Essays on Ovid's Ars Amatoria and Remedia Amoris (OUP 2007) and Forgotten Stars: Rediscovering Manilius' Astronomica (OUP 2011); his latest monograph, Disclosure and Discretion in Roman Astrology: Manilius and his Augustan Contemporaries, is in press (OUP 2014).

TONY KEEN is a Research Affiliate and Associate Lecturer at the Open University. He is currently working on Martial's Martians and Other Stories: Studies in Science Fiction and Fantasy and Greece and Rome.

LLOYD LLEWELLYN-JONES is Senior Lecturer in Ancient History in the School of History, Classics & Archaeology at the University of Edinburgh. He specializes in Achaemenid Persia and Greek socio-cultural history, and in the reception of antiquity in popular culture. He is the author of Aphrodite's Tortoise: the Veiled Woman of Ancient Greece, Ctesias' History of Persia- Tales of the Orient, King and Court in Ancient Persia, and the forthcoming Designs on the Past – How Hollywood Created the Ancient World. His latest project focuses on dress and the body in Achaemenid culture. He is also the general editor of Edinburgh Studies in Ancient Persia for Edinburgh University Press.

ELEANOR OKELL is currently Visiting Research Fellow in Classics at the University of Leeds. She specializes in ancient drama and education, and reception of the classical world across different media, especially Greek tragic reception from Seneca to the present day.

STEPHEN TRZASKOMA is Professor of Classics at the University of New Hampshire. He specializes in classical myth and mythography, as well as Greek prose fiction of the Roman imperial period. He is author of Two Novels from Ancient Greece: Chariton's Callirhoe and Xenophon of Ephesos' An Ephesian Story (2010) and co-editor of Writing Myth: Mythography in the Ancient World (2013), Apollodorus' Library and Hyginus' Fabulae: Two Handbooks of Greek Mythology (2007), and Anthology of Classical Myth (2004).
